

Project Manager

THE POSITION

YOU ARE

A proactive project manager with over a year of experience and a collaborative team spirit, committed to advancing people's health through innovative biomedical research projects. Good level in both English and Spanish is required.

YOU WILL

- Plan and monitor the proper execution of research grants and contracts for the group.
- Provide support in interactions with funding entities and collaborators.
- Assist in the economic management and justification of research grants and contracts.
- Assist in the organizational management of the research group in relation to the grants and contracts that enable their lines of work.

YOUR FUTURE TEAM

We are a dynamic research group with extensive experience in translational biomedicine. Our research is centered on identifying vulnerabilities in cancer to develop new and more effective therapies. THE PI: Dr. Joaquín Arribas, an ICREA Professor, currently serves as the Director of IMIM and the Research Director of PSMAR. He also holds positions as the Coordinator of the Breast Cancer Program in CIBERONC and the Leader of the Growth Factors Group at VHIO. Dr. Arribas has authored publications with high impact factors and is the Principal Investigator of several well-funded projects. His research is highly collaborative and is fully oriented towards translation, leading to patents and licensing

WHERE

Hospital del Mar Research Institute, Barcelona. We are part of the Barcelona Biomedical Research Park (PRBB), an exceptional environment for translational research. We have access to the best technological platforms (cytometry, animal facilities, microscopy, etc.) and a close relationship with Hospital del Mar. Access to patients and samples allows for a direct application of the best scientific advancements, having a real and rapid impact on people's health.
